

BURWELL, BURWELL & NEBOUT, LLP

Regardless of the case, the firm employs cutting-edge technology to help illustrate the facts and to expediently handle each matter.

HOMETOWN LAWYERS Like his partner, James D. Nebout, Burwell grew up in Galveston County. The lawyers live here and work here. Every client is treated like a good neighbor.

"You don't survive in a small town for 36 years unless you've been taking care of your clients," Burwell notes.

Many plaintiffs are ordinary folks who are up against giant corporate entities. Burwell and his partners are up to the task. "We have the skills and resources to level the playing field," he says.

Burwell, who interned for U.S. District Judge Samuel B. Kent, is Board Certified in Personal Injury Trial Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization and in Civil Trial Advocacy by the National Board of Trial Advocacy.

He is a past director of the State Bar of Texas and the Texas Young Lawyers Association as well as past president of the Galveston County Bar and Young Lawyers Associations.

He is a member of the Million Dollar Advocates Forum. In 2000, he was named the Galveston County Outstanding Young Lawyer.

RUSSELL G.
BURWELL III

Some might say the law is in Russell G. Burwell III's blood. His father has represented injured Texans since 1970, and his mother, Gladys B. Burwell, is the Galveston County Probate Judge. His sister, Rebecca, is also a lawyer.

But Burwell didn't become an attorney just because he was surrounded by the law. He selected the profession because he admired the passion his parents and their peers had for their careers. "It is what I wanted to do," he says.

Today, Burwell is a partner in Burwell, Burwell & Nebout, the celebrated personal injury law firm his father founded.

RENOWNED EXPERTISE Burwell primarily handles injuries due to industrial accidents, maritime incidents and motor vehicle collisions.

Although known for its successful verdict history in the personal injury arena, the firm also handles commercial and labor litigation.

Like those whom he admires, Burwell clearly loves the law. He also relishes carrying on the family tradition of providing quality legal services to the community. "I'm in the perfect spot," he concludes.
